Below are reflection questions to deepen your learning.

Think about what you know about grief, loss, and change. How would you partner with families through the lens of responsive caregiving to support students?

How can you ensure the necessary emergent and early literacy skills are taught in a way to engage students, even in a digital platform?

How do our resources, strategies, and solutions address equitable access, representation, and capacity?

What does it mean to set families up for success during home learning?
