

the Exchangeree

Gizmos and Gadgets Galore

In Partnership with Federal Realty at THE AVENUE at White Marsh

The Gizmos and Gadgets Galore Campaign is a multi-faceted initiative with three of the four programs supporting Baltimore County Public Schools students directly via their full-time teachers and support staff.

TOOLS FOR SCHOOL furnishes basic school supplies and resources for students allowing them to be prepared for learning with confidence and to be highly effective in the classroom. Our partners can host a drive for new supplies or make a monetary donation. Supplies no longer needed by individuals, local businesses and organizations are accepted and repurposed into classroom learning materials.

SHARE THE WARMTH provides children who need winter accessories items to keep themselves warm, safe and healthy during the coldness of winter and health and wellness items for classroom use. School staff are able to shop for these items from November-February, ensuring that these much-needed items keep students warm during winter's bitter-cold months. Supplies related to health and wellness will eliminate the spread of germs from one student to another or one household to another. A student's health and well-being will impact student academic growth and overall achievement in school.

BOOKS FOR BINS provides teachers the opportunity to select age-appropriate/level books for their students to build their home library and summer reading opportunities. This campaign develops verbal abilities, improves focus, concentration, and one's imagination. It allows students to enjoy the arts and improves the world around them. Reading improves student memory, provides entertainment, eliminates and reduces stress, and allows students to discover oneself.

THE HUB is a center for teachers to collect, redistribute, exchange, and repurpose resources with their colleagues in a collaborative, collegial space. It is a center for community champions and education influencers to network, provide professional development or host events (both educational and social.)

IMAGINE...

A carpenter being asked to build without wood
 A chef being asked to cook without food
 A painter being asked to paint without paint
 A gardener being asked to garden without seeds

IMAGINE...

A student being asked to learn without pencils, books, or paper; or, to participate in remote learning without resources. Your giving and support will help in the completion of learning assignments as well as sustain physical, mental, and emotional well-being for our students.

"The more that you read, the more things you will know. The more that you learn, the more places you'll go."

– Dr. Seuss

Books are the most fundamental building blocks to learning and access to them helps expand young minds. Your giving and support will extend the opportunity for students to learn through literature, not always readily available.

Tools for School: Remote Learning Toolkits

Provide BCPS students in need, equitable access to kits of basic school supplies and therapeutic art supplies impacting Continuity of Learning during COVID-19.

Tools for School: Remote Learning Toolkits will be distributed directly to our BCPS student(s).

Communication to families will be made by individual school principals and their response to community questions.

FACTS for Need

Children in low-income families have access to fewer reading materials than children of middle- and upper-income families (Lindsay, 2010; Krashen, 2012).

Summer learning shortfall experienced by low-income children in the elementary grades has consequences that reverberate throughout children's schooling and can affect whether a child ultimately earns a high-school diploma and continues to college (Alexander et al., 2007).

Children who receive and read free books over the summer experience the equivalent of attending three years of summer school—and the difference in fall reading scores is twice as high among the poorest children in the study (Allington & McGill-Franzen, 2008).

Reading four to five books during the summer is potentially powerful enough to prevent a decline in reading achievement from spring to fall (Kim, 2004).

Your giving and support will help to provide resources and books, allowing students equitable access to curricular materials and opportunity for growth in these challenging times.

THE EDUCATION FOUNDATION OF BALTIMORE COUNTY PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Annually, the foundation reaches out to the community to support various campaigns providing an increased awareness of the need of teacher/student supplies and resources in the classroom.

These campaigns make an impact on academic performance and social emotional well-being for students and teachers.

RISE for a Brighter Future (Relief in Securing Education) campaign continues the ask for support of the need of teacher/student supplies and resources in the classroom as the learning landscape shifts during the COVID-19 pandemic and beyond.

RISE for a Brighter Future (Relief in Securing Education) campaign sustains equitable access to resources and books, allowing students equitable access to curricular materials and opportunity for growth in these challenging times.

As the district continues to provide the resources needed to sustain remote learning, the foundation will continue to foresee the growing need for the necessary supplies and resources delivered to our students and supporting our teachers.

We invite you to join us to make an impact!
