

LEARNING FORWARD'S

Texas Mentor Teacher Academy

Supporting Texas districts through the Mentor Program Allotment

*Application Deadline
February 18*

Give new Texas teachers
the support they need from a highly qualified mentor.

Recognizing the critical need for Texas districts to retain and support new teachers, the Texas Education Agency established the Mentor Program Allotment (MPA), providing districts up to $100,000 in funding to develop and support mentor teachers.

As a Texas-based, TEA-approved mentor training provider, Learning Forward can help you implement a research-based, customized support program for your mentors that reflects best practices in adult learning, meets the requirements of the MPA, and ensures that your beginning teachers have the support they need from a highly qualified mentor.

The MPA Cycle 2 application deadline is February 18.

WHAT WE DO. Our support for mentor teachers includes:

Understanding mentor roles, responsibilities, and expectations

Applying a three-phase mentoring cycle

Establishing and maintaining trust with beginning teachers

Conducting classroom observations

Mentoring for classroom management

Analyzing observation data

LEARNING FORWARD

Texas Mentor Teacher Academy

*Give your new teachers the confidence they need through support from a highly qualified mentor.

About the Mentor Program Allotment (MPA)

- Districts may apply for $2,000 in funding per beginning teacher (teachers who have been in the classroom less than two years), up to $100,000, to work with an MPA-approved provider;
- Funding may be used for release time for mentors and beginning teachers, mentor stipends, and mentor provider partnerships;
- Mentor training partnerships must be through a TEA-approved mentor training program;
- Application window closes February 18;
- TEA will notify districts of their application status in March 2022;
- Districts begin implementing mentor programs during the 2022-2023 school year.

BEST MENTORSHIP PRACTICES

Learning Forward's Mentor Teacher Academy explicitly addresses each of the five key topics included in the TEA's application process:

1. Effective mentoring partnerships
2. Coaching cycles
3. Data-driven instructional practices
4. Lesson planning
5. Learning environment

Learning Forward's Mentor Teacher Academy is a customized, multi-day, blended learning experience for Texas districts seeking to provide beginning teachers with an experienced, knowledgeable, highly effective mentor. The Academy reflects the program requirements of a research-based, state-approved program as described by the TEA. The Academy is grounded in a Mentoring Cycle of diagnosing needs, providing coaching support to address those needs, and monitoring progress to measure growth and evaluate impact utilizing a "Plan, Do, Study, Act" process for growth and improvement.

MENTOR TEACHER ACADEMY OUTCOMES

We help mentor teachers develop skills and strategies to:

- Build strong relationships and effectively communicate with beginning teachers, including providing ongoing support in a virtual space;
- Apply adult learning theory and understanding of new teacher mindset to the mentoring role;
- Apply a "Diagnose, Coach, Monitor Progress" mentoring cycle grounded in relationship-building and communication strategies;
- Diagnose and prioritize beginning teachers' strengths and areas for growth in the areas of classroom management, instruction, and content-specific pedagogy;
- Design and implement a mentoring support plan to develop beginning teacher knowledge and skills and appropriately differentiate coaching strategies;
- Monitor beginning teacher progress and determine next steps for ongoing mentoring;
- Deepen their own content knowledge and content-specific pedagogy in order to support new teachers' instruction and appropriate use of formative and summative assessments;
- Support beginning teachers in using culturally responsive teaching techniques and understanding the unique needs of the students and families they serve.

For more information on Learning Forward's TEA-approved Mentor Teacher Academy, or for questions about how we can support your MPA application, contact Tom Manning, Senior Vice President of Professional Services, at tom.manning@learningforward.org.

THE PROFESSIONAL LEARNING ASSOCIATION

consulting.learningforward.org