Inside-Out Coaching:

Instructional coaching has risen to new heights with the ever-growing focus on increased accountability and teacher effectiveness. The instructional coaches in Weld County School District RE-1, working with McREL International, have developed and implemented a unique inside-out coaching model using triad teams that yield powerful professional learning and improved teacher practice. Those attending this interactive session will leave with an understanding of the inside-out approach and tools for creating, calibrating, and guiding triad teams – with the ultimate goal of transforming teacher-to-teacher interactions and improving instruction.
